Counting Carpinterians

Every ten years the U.S. Census Bureau attempts to count every person in the United States. The next U.S. Census count will begin April 1, 2020. A complete and accurate count of the population in California, Santa Barbara County, and Carpinteria, is important because Census data affects the distribution of federal funds to state and local governments, including the City of Carpinteria, influences the redrawing of county and state legislative districts, and determines the number of seats each state has in the U.S. House of Representatives.

The City of Carpinteria is working with both state and county campaigns seeking to ensure that all Carpinterians, along with county and state residents, get their fair share of federal resources and legislative representation by encouraging participation in Census 2020.

Census data, by federal law, is confidential and only used to produce statistics. It cannot be shared with immigration or law enforcement agencies or used to determine eligibility for governmental benefits. Census data is used for myriad purposes beneficial to our community. The data is used to advocate for community resources and ensure adequate public safety and school and public health services. It is also routinely referenced by businesses to decide where to locate, creating local jobs and investment.

This Census is particularly important for Carpinteria. In 2010 there was an undercount of Carpinteria's population that has resulted in a loss of significant revenue for City services over the last decade. For example, federal Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) revenue is allocated to the City based in part on population. The decline in population reported in the last census negatively affected the City's CDBG allocation. CDBG revenue is used to support organizations that provide services to Carpinteria youth, seniors, and lower income families. Also, the City will be relying heavily on Census information as a part of the process of drawing district election maps for the new City Council district elections that begin November 2022.

California has been identified as a state with a hard-to-count population given a number of demographic factors such as its considerable number of foreign-born residents, renters, and people without internet access (this will be the first census relying heavily on people filling out the form online). For similar reasons, many households in Carpinteria are expected to be hard to count. The City's population was adjusted downward by about 7%

Fall Community Partner Award Recipients

The City of Carpinteria is pleased to announce this fall's Community Partner Award recipients, Home for Good and a group of volunteers who provide weekly hot lunch to Carpinteria's homeless community. Homelessness is a complicated issue that cities around the nation are struggling to effectively address. Our Community Partner Award recipients work diligently and compassionately to put an end to homelessness. These groups recognize that each individual has a unique set of circumstances, and many grapple with physical and mental health issues. Understanding these diverse needs and meeting them is a necessary step toward permanent housing.

Home for Good

Home for Good, a Santa Barbara County United Way initiative, connects individuals experiencing homelessness with long-term housing, working in collaboration with the City of Carpinteria and the County of Santa Barbara. The initiative, overseen by Santa Barbara County United Way, has a highly active Carpinteria arm led by Housing & Outreach Coordinator Travis Baxter. Baxter manages a full-time Americorps member in Carpinteria and creates a critical nexus of community volunteers and organizations who focus on connecting people that are homeless with the services they need, working alongside Santa Barbara County Behavioral Wellness and Public Health.

"Travis and his team have done exceptional work," said Eddie Taylor, CEO of Northern Santa Barbara County United Way.

As the lead agency in Santa Barbara County's Coordinated Entry System, Home for Good is using a three-phased approach to resolve homelessness. In its first year and a half, the program has focused on phase one, data collection. Annual Point in Time Counts supply critical data about the homeless populations throughout the County. In Carpinteria, Summerland, and Montecito, the homeless population includes 36 individuals, 47 percent of whom are chronically homeless.

Home for Good's second phase, getting individuals "document ready," is well underway. Having paperwork in order will be necessary for the final phase, which is creation of housing and permanent supportive housing services. The goals of Home for Good are ambitious, but staff members have already begun to see the results of their hard work and careful planning.

Wednesday Lunch Volunteers

Every Wednesday, a free lunch is served in the Veterans Memorial Building Meeting Room by a group of volunteers who bring much more than just hot food to the table. The meal itself provides a weekly opportunity for regular contact with friendly, trusted volunteers who can connect people in need to key services and resources.

This volunteer group—has no official name or nonprofit affiliation—but its members are highly dedicated. They have patiently developed relationships with the people they serve, and these hard-earned relationships have opened doors to improved health and safety. Volunteers include Leah Wagner, Barbara and Sanderson Smith, Mike Carmel, Ruthie Tremmel, Rick Olmstead, Mike Lee, Susanna Green, Gina Cummings, Lisa Rader, and Jaime Whitezman.

"None of us does this for acknowledgment," said Wagner. "We're all just doing what our hearts are calling us to do."

Volunteers home-cook and deliver meals that range from lasagne to burritos, and once a month Fosters Freeze donates lunch. Each week, a table in the meeting room is set up with donated items available to anyone who needs them: razors, wet wipes, soap, lotion, etc. For people who are hungry but aren't comfortable attending, volunteers often deliver plates of hot food throughout the community. County health workers attend the lunch periodically to offer medical and counseling services to the five to ten individuals who regularly participate, and Home for Good also helps to meet needs identified at the weekly gathering.

"Sometimes what's needed is as simple as a toothbrush; sometimes it's paperwork to get housing," says Wagner. "We feel very strongly about loving these people and helping them without enabling them."

Lagunitas Business Park Receives Recommendation for Final Approval

The Lagunitas Business Park received a recommendation for Final Approval from the Architectural Review Board on October 17, 2019. The complex will be located on the 6300 block of Via Real and will contain 82,874 square feet of new office space with 342 parking spaces, and landscaping on the balance of the 8.63-acre parcel. The developers indicate the building permit application will be submitted soon.

Gran Vida Phase II Assisted Living Facility

Gran Vida Phase II is a proposed, new 49,050 square foot assisted-living facility for seniors that would contain 50 units. The project will be located next to the existing Gran Vida assisted living facility on Carpinteria Avenue. Story poles for the project were installed on September 30, 2019 and the project received comments from the Architectural Review Board (ARB) on October 17, 2019. It is scheduled to return to the ARB for additional review on December 12, 2019.

Skate Park Moves Forward, Seeks Funding

The Parks Department is moving forward on the proposed skate park to be located adjacent to City Hall at 5775 Carpinteria Avenue. The night lighting design concept has been completed and the Project Application has been filed with the City's Community Development Department for review and processing. This project is in partnership with the Carpinteria Skate Foundation, a 501(c)3 organization, that is currently seeking donations to fund construction of the skate park. Carpinteria Harbor Seal Rookery 2020 Popping Season

From December 1st through May 31st the City beach at the base of Casitas Pier, extending 750 feet east and west, is closed by City Ordinance to all people and animals. Harbor seals can be viewed from the Carpinteria Seal Rookery bluff top, which can be accessed from the Coastal Vista Trail, the Carpinteria Bluffs or Dump Road. The beach closure allows harbor seals (phoca vitulina richardsii) to birth and nourish their pups, which mature between four and seven years and have a lifespan of 30 to 40 years.

The Federal Marine Mammal Protection Act prohibits disturbances of harbor seals, especially during the birthing season. The entrance to the beach is posted for the closure. Those who disregarded the signs and harass the seals can be fined as much as $10,000. If a harbor seal or pup is on the beach outside of the rookery area, stay away and do not walk between the pup and the ocean. Seal pups are left on the beach while their mothers forage for fish, squid, clams and shellfish; they will return to care for the pup but are extremely shy if humans or animals are close by.

If you would like to volunteer for Carpinteria Seal Watch, please call (805) 684-2247, or email: carpsalwatch@gmail.com. There are time slots for as little as two-hours. Seal Watch Volunteers inform the public about the seals and the laws that protect the seals. Volunteers attempt to divert human and dog encroachments as to prevent or minimize the intensity of the disturbances. Volunteers also assist local and federal protection efforts and collect data about seal behavior and seal disturbances. If you observe a hurt or injured mammal and you believe it is an emergency for the animal to be treated, call the Marine Mammal center at (805) 687-3255 if the mammal is north of Rincon. If the mammal is south of Rincon call Channel Islands Marine and Wildlife Institute at (805) 567-1505 or visit cimwi.org. Carpinteria Harbor Seal Rookery brochures are available at City Hall.

New City Plastic Regulations for Businesses Set for January 2020

Don't forget, on January 1, 2020, new single use plastics regulations for businesses go into effect! Single-use plastic straws and cutlery will be prohibited, and food providers will only be able to provide certified compostable or marine degradable straws and cutlery upon request. Condiments and plastic cup lids will also be provided upon request only. For more information contact City Environmental Coordinator, Erin Maker at erinm@ci.carpinteria.ca.us, or (805)-880-3415.

City Moves Towards Cleaner Energy

Carpinteria is moving towards cleaner energy. On August 26, the Carpinteria City Council voted to join Monterey Bay Community Power, a Community Choice Energy (CCE) provider. Also called community choice aggregation, CCE programs purchase renewable and carbon free energy on behalf of their customers. Transmission is still handled by the existing investor owned utility, in our case Southern California Edison. Customer enrollment will begin in 2021 and is automatic, but customers can opt-out if they prefer. As customers, most people will see very little difference upon enrollment other than two line items on their bill from Southern California Edison, one for delivery and one for generation. For more information about how community choice energy works and programs that will be available to customers once launched in Carpinteria, visit mbcommunitypower.org/.

HOST Season Wrap Up

The cool spring weather brought a slow start to the City's HOST Program. But it didn't take long for the Kiosk at the Seal Fountain to be buzzing with both new and returning visitors. Several families have been visiting Carpinteria for decades, always bringing the next generation to our community.

The HOSTs greeted more than 3,200 visitors, from 39 states, and twelve countries wrapping up a very successful season.

Every weekend from Memorial Day through Labor Day, HOSTs volunteer their time at the downtown Visitor Center greeting visitors, answering questions about the Carpinteria Valley and providing information on activities that appeal to a variety of interests. If you would like to join the fun, please contact Mimi Audelo at (805)-755-4401 or mimia@ci.carpinteria.ca.us.

City Projects Completed, Planned, and Underway

2019 Completed Capital Improvement Projects

The Carpinteria Avenue Pedestrian Safety Improvements Project, the 2019 Pavement Maintenance Project, and the Carpinteria Avenue and Elm Avenue Bus Shelter Relocation Project were successfully completed this year.

Pedestrian Crossing Safety Improvements Planned

The Pedestrian Crossing Safety Improvements Project consists of constructing sidewalk infill, ADA facilities, curb and gutter along Bailard Avenue at its intersection with Carpinteria Avenue and with Via Real, and also constructing curb extensions and installing a crosswalk at Linden Avenue and Dorrance Way. The project is currently in the design phase and construction is expected to begin in April 2020.

Pavement Rehabilitation Project

The upcoming Pavement Rehabilitation Project will include pavement rehabilitation and upgrading curb ramps as needed for compliance with Americans with Disabilities Act. The project will also incorporate technologies and material recycling that lower greenhouse gas emissions and reduce the cost of pavement maintenance through material choice and construction methods. The streets selected for treatment and approved by City Council include Carpinteria Avenue from Santa Ynez to Sandyland Cove Road, Nipomo Drive from Linden Avenue to Tomol Drive, and Eighth Street from Elm Avenue to Maple Avenue.

The project is currently in the design phase and it is expected that construction will begin in February 2020.

City Hall Renovation Project Work Progressing

The City Hall renovation project is well underway. Construction of electrical, plumbing, and mechanical improvements are substantially complete. Structural repairs and installation of the fire sprinkler system are in progress. Improvements still to come include interior structural improvements, office space construction, and exterior landscaping. The project is anticipated to be completed in January 2020.

Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) Training at City Hall

To kick off Emergency Preparedness Month, the City held a Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) training at City Hall in September. Participants from the community learned about disaster preparedness, basic first aid, and team organization. Thanks to the Carpinteria Summerland Fire Protection District everyone received fire safety and fire extinguisher training. At the end of the twenty hour course, graduates participated in a simulated disaster drill, putting to work their new knowledge and skills.

The CERT program is designed to help communities prepare for, respond to, and recover from disasters through training and planning. With training and information, individuals and community groups can be prepared to serve as a crucial resource capable of performing many of the emergency functions needed right after a disaster.

If you would like to learn more about the Carpinteria CERT program and future classes, contact Mimi Audelo at mimia@ci.carpinteria.ca.us or (805) 755-4401.

Being Prepared for an Emergency is a Way of Life

Whether it is a winter storm, earthquake, or the latest Public Safety Power Shutoff (PSPS) event, being prepared will help you get through the situation.

Listed are a few simple steps and some resources to get you started:

- Be aware of your surroundings. Know the risks in your area at home, work, or school.
- Make an emergency plan for you and your household. Your plan should include what to do if you are at home when the emergency starts and if you are away.
- Include important phone numbers in your plan. Add an out of area contact person.
- Build an emergency kit for your home, work, and vehicle.
- Sign up for SB County emergency alerts at ReadySBC.org as well as alerts from your power company such as SCE.com

It's never too early to get prepared. There are a lot of resources available to help in your preparedness journey that include the Disaster Ready Resources listed below. And don't forget to check your emergency kits yearly.

Be Storm Ready!

Santa Barbara County has implemented Ready, Set, Go protocols for storms.

READY -- Advisory storm alert. Given enough time (72-48 hours in advance), the Ready advisory will alert the community about the incoming storm.

SET -- Prepare to evacuate. The Set message is an evacuation warning that will go out to the affected areas (48-24 hours in advance) asking residents to prepare to leave.

GO -- Evacuate. If the storm remains a threat, the Go evacuation order will tell residents to leave now, less than 24 hours before the predicted rain event.

If you need assistance evacuating, don't wait. It may be difficult to reach you once the rain starts. Also, there may be situations when there is not enough time for notifications. Don't wait for an evacuation order; leave the area if you feel unsafe. To sign up for alerts, go to readyabc.org.

City Beach Prepares for Winter Storms

Each year in November, the City of Carpinteria readies for winter storms along the beachfront by building a sand berm to protect ocean front improvements from wave and flood damage. The berm is made of locally sourced beach sand and provides some protection in the event of a significant ocean wave event. The winter protection berm is scheduled to be constructed beginning in Late November and takes about 5 days to complete. The City reminds everyone that it is important for safety to stay off of the beach and away from the tractor when the berm is being constructed. The project is funded by the beach front homeowners and the City of Carpinteria. For information contact Matt Roberts (805) 755-4449 or email matr@ci.carpinteria.ca.us

Sandbags Available at City Hall

It's a good time to begin preparing your home and property for the potential wet weather coming this winter. The City of Carpinteria is offering free sandbags to help residents prepare. Residents can fill up to 20 sandbags per household while supplies last at the Public Works Yard located at 5775 Carpinteria Avenue. The hours are Monday - Thursday, 7:30am to 4pm and Fridays from 7:30am - 3pm. When filling sandbags, fill them only half way, so they are not too heavy and will stack properly. Sand bags can help protect your property during storm events.

The City of Carpinteria believes that early storm preparation is critical to helping you deal successfully with possible flooding from potential wet weather this winter. If it starts to flood many resources you will need will already be stressed or unavailable. Traveling to get sandbags during a storm may be problematic. So please take advantage of this opportunity to prepare your home and property. For more information about sandbags, please contact Robert Howard, Public Works Supervisor at (805) 755-4443.

after the last census, a reflection of what the City concluded was a significant undercount of residents.

We will need your ideas and help in order to identify the best ways to ensure that everyone gets counted. In the weeks and months to come before the April 1, 2020 census begins, you'll be hearing much more about the census and will have the opportunity to help. We hope you'll join this effort to ensure Carpinterians get needed resources and representation. In the meantime, information about Census 2020 can be found at these California and County of Santa Barbara websites: census.ca.gov and santabarbaracountycensus.org.
