RE: SB 951 (Wiener) California Coastal Act of 1976: coastal zone: coastal development.
Notice of Oppose Unless Amended (As Amended April 3, 2024)

Dear Senator Weiner,

The City of Carpinteria respectfully submits our oppose unless amended position on SB 951, which would expand rezoning standards for coastal development within the coastal zone, affecting the development of housing elements and local coastal program procedures. As currently drafted, SB 951 would require local governments to provide any necessary local coastal program updates during the housing element planning period to incorporate the rezoning of site inventories.

While we recognize the importance of addressing housing issues within the coastal zone, the City of Carpinteria believes SB 951 will overburden local governments in planning processes without solving the challenges of increasing affordable housing and meeting housing goals in the coastal zone. Under existing law, local governments are required to prepare a Local Coastal Program (LCP) or may request in writing to the Coastal Commission to have the commission prepare an LCP on behalf of the local jurisdiction. The LCP certification process is time-consuming and costly – taking years of review and public proceedings to gain approval. The bill would require LCPs be updated every five to eight years to include the rezoning of sites as required by the Department of Housing and Community Development in reviewing the housing element. This approach mires local governments in planning efforts that will not solve the underlying housing issues.

Further, state law enshrines that “no local coastal program shall be required to include housing policies and programs” (Public Resources Code Section 30500.1). While the intention of SB 951 may be to streamline regulatory processes, the bill puts burdensome obligations on local governments to include housing-specific, parcel-level information. The bill lacks clarity on the state’s role in approving any LCP updates promptly to support the development of housing in the coastal zone. This ambiguity will lead to confusion in local planning efforts and undermine the effectiveness of updating both local coastal programs and housing elements and meeting housing goals.

At a minimum, the bill should be amended to shift the burden of doubling down on local planning and rather provide a clear path for local governments to identify if zoning changes were made during the rezoning of sites that would change the local maps or ordinances. If the local government determines that zoning changes did occur, they should be directed to follow the structured process in Public Resources Code §30513 to submit any necessary zoning ordinance or zoning district map changes to the Coastal Commission, rather than require a more robust, costly, and time intensive LCP update. This would provide a balanced approach to meet the author's intent of the bill to align the rezoning of sites during the housing element review cycle and ensure coastal planning can continue to progress with updated zoning maps and information.

As currently written, SB 951 erodes local autonomy and undermines community-based planning efforts, ultimately weakening the ability of local governments to effectively manage coastal development in line with housing priorities. SB 951 would pose significant costs to local governments to meet these requirements.

For these reasons, the City of Carpinteria's position remains opposed unless SB 951 is amended. If you have any questions, do not hesitate to contact me at alclark@carpinteriaca.gov or (805) 684-5405.

Sincerely,

Al Clark, Mayor
